The Entire National Guard of Pennsylvania

Disembarked Just Before Dawn

At Brinton—They Cross the River and Enter Homestead at Daybreak—Newspaper Men Held as Prisoners to Suppress Meeting.

CHICAGO, July 11.—A Herald special from Homestead, Pa., says: Before daylight the entire National Guard of Pennsylvania will be quartered in Homestead. The camp detail has been very shrewdly managed by the military authorities. It has been given out that the three brigades would meet at different rendezvous and that only one at a time would proceed to the insurgent town and that only after first centering at a point two or three miles away from the scene of trouble. Such would be a foolish move, if any sensible resistance was to be encountered, and the result proves that it was given out merely as a blind. All three brigades are rushing toward Homestead as fast as steam can carry them. It is expected the entire army will disembark just before dawn at Brinton, across the river, and less than two miles from Homestead. They will quietly cross the river and enter the town at daybreak. Several newspaper correspondents, who went from here on special trains with the Pittsburgh regiments at 7 o'clock, it is learned, are being held as prisoners on the cars in order that the news of the movement shall not escape over the wires. There is good authority for believing that the plan of campaign includes the installing of nonunion men in the Carnegie works within a few hours after their occupation by the troops.

The Mine and Winchmen. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—The question of returning the guns and ammunition taken from the boats of the captured Pinkerton men at Homestead, Pa., last Wednesday has been given the citizens of that borough some little uneasiness, since it is a matter of history that the boats were pillaged by the crowd the moment the detectives were taken on shore.

One of the leaders and a member of the advisory committee, said in a reporter: "Of course the Pinkerton agency will make a demand for their guns, revolvers and ammunition, and we will do our best for them; but you will understand that we are in a peculiar position. The terms of surrender were that the guns should all be turned up and sent back to Pinkerton headquarters with the ammunition; and I don't know when that promise was given we intended that it should be kept, but the mob was too much for us. Those guns I suppose are distributed in every town in the county, and one long-headed fellow from McKeesport has taken away with seven of the Winchester. He lived a stiff to every himself and guns to Fort Perry, where he disposed of them at $7.50 a piece, and when we went after the next morning he had not one of the captured guns. Many of the guns also went to the South Side, and all I can say is that we will do our best to have the guns and keep our promise, we found that we had all we could do to keep the town from being killed. Some of the firearms are in Homestead, scattered through the town, but I will venture to say that if we were called on for the guns this minute we could not gather up more than two or three dozen of them."

A great deal of the ammunition was burned in the fire, and that which was taken out has been sent on rollers by the visitors to the town, who wished to carry away some memento from the scene of battle. There were about $5,000 worth of firearms, including revolvers, on the boats, while there is no reliable estimate of the value of the ammunition to be had.

A Practical Dead Line Established. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—Fifty special policemen have been appointed to maintain order in the borough of Homestead, which is now a scene of Carnegie works. This afternoon the special did their first work in stopping a crowd of men and boys from the Brown's mill of the South side, Pittsburgh, who came to the mill in a charge towards town. When this crowd was sighted several hundred men started to meet them. The newcomers were told that strangers were not wanted in the town. "There are too many people from outside here now," said one policeman, "and if more come in there will be a riot."

Those of the crowd who are workers in Brown's mill were finally invited to attend the mass meeting at the rink. The others were sent back. It is evident that a practical dead line has been established.

Burgess McLuckie has decided to issue a proclamation directing the police to prevent any person who has no legitimate business in Homestead from entering the borough and also directing the closing of the schools. The number of the special policemen will be increased to 300.

The Miners Will Rally to the Aid of the Rioters. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—A mounted miner rode into town yesterday afternoon from 8 1/2 mile ferry, and reported that 4,000 miners from the Allegheny valley were gathering and intent to come here to help the strikers. He said that the miners believed that if the mill men here are crushed into submission it would be a severe blow to all organized labor men and the miners are willing to go to any extreme to assist the Homestead men.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

The story was not fully credited here for although it is known that the miners are in sympathy with Carnegie's men, it is not believed that they could assemble and arm 3,000 men without it leaking out.

The messenger returned to the men whom he represented with a reply said to be an acceptance of the offer of the miners, but the exact nature of the reply could not be learned.

The Departure of Troops from Philadelphia. PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—The scene around the Pennsylvania railroad station at Thirty-second and Main streets yesterday, reminded many of the stirring sight in the sixties. Great crowds witnessed the departure of the soldiers, and cheer after cheer was sent up as the trains left the depot.

The First, Second and Third regiments, with Gen. Snowdon and his staff, left in two special trains at 11:30 a. m. and were followed an hour later by the State Femibles and Gray Invincibles.

The city troops were early on the ground and were all in readiness to move out a little after 12 o'clock. Their horses were embarked on cattle cars, and the troops embarked for their march on foot. The rest are expected to report on a later train, all of them being out of town.

Battery "A" had eighty-five men out of ninety ready for action. Those who were under arms were busy loading their field pieces on their carriage trucks. They are short twenty horses, but expect to get the full complement on reaching Mount Gretna.

A Portion of the Troops Located. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—According to the latest reports received here there are forty carloads of troops at Port Perry, a couple of miles up the river, and the others assembling at Blairsville, Pa., intersection. Two carloads of guns and ammunition are at Brinton, and the first division is under arms at Mount Gretna. There is some comment here upon the fact that the troops from the western part of the state are arriving in reserved 300 miles away and the troops coming here are from the western part of the state, and many of them from towns so near here that the millmen are friends of the strikers. A train on the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny railroad passed through here last evening with a number of National guardsmen. The strikers surrounded the cars and advised the soldiers to surrender their arms and shoo them away.

The Leaders, at Least, Coming to Their Senses. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—At a meeting yesterday of the advisory committee of the workers, at which were present President-elect Garland and Secretary-elect Kilgannon of the Amalgamated association, it was decided to appoint a committee to go among the workmen and advise them to make no demonstration of hostility or even display of arms when the troops arrive. The members of this committee started out on their mission last evening after they were selected, and carried out the instructions given them. They impressed upon the workmen the necessity for peaceful conduct, and told them that they would be guided by the advice of the leaders, who would not neglect their interests in any degree.

Burgess McLuckie's Proclamation. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—John McLuckie, the burgess, or mayor of Homestead, has issued a proclamation last evening warning all persons not having important business in Homestead at this time, to remain away from the town and giving notice that all persons who do not leave the town by midnight will be held strictly accountable for their conduct and be dealt with in a manner warranted by the gravity of the situation. Perfect order is counseled, and all saboteurs are ordered closed until further notice.

To Receive the Troops With Open Arms. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—At the mass meeting of the strikers yesterday afternoon it was decided unanimously to receive the national guard with open arms. All the workmen's lodges were directed to assemble when the troops arrive and escort them with bands and music to the rendezvous. The greatest enthusiasm marked the meeting, and the name of Gov. Pattison was frequently cheered.

Unbalanced His Mind. CHICAGO, July 12.—Michael Slater, one of the Pinkerton men, who was in the recent battle at Homestead, was arrested Friday night in a charge of attempted murder. He entered the house at 305 Fifth avenue, and began shooting at everybody in sight. In court the case was dismissed on the ground that the prisoner at Homestead had unbalanced Slater's mind.

Swallowed Up. Three Hundred Persons Go Down with an Insecure Carnegie Payment. CHICAGO, July 12.—By the caving in of a bank of sidewalk in front of 185 and 187 Milwaukee avenue, last night, nearly 300 people were thrown into the basement underneath. One person was probably fatally injured, and eight others were hurt. The injured were taken to the hospital.

Death at Newboys' Merry Making. DETROIT, Mich., July 12.—The Evening News yesterday gave 3,000 newboys a merry making at Des Moines, Iowa, an island resort nine miles below this city, in the Detroit river. While there a row-boat containing five boys was capsized, and one boy, named Alex. Wingert, aged 14, was drowned. The other boys were rescued.

WITH OPEN ARMS.

The Looked-Out Workmen Waiting for the Militia.

CUNNING WORK OF THE LABOR LEADERS

What Would Have Been Inevitable Defeat and Humiliation Turned Into an Occasion of Great Rejoicing—A Remarkable Meeting.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—The mass meeting of the looked-out workmen held at the Homestead rink yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering a reasonable range of the condition of popular feeling. Those who were radical in their utterances against the coming of the National Guard stood in their places and cheered when it was decided to receive the militia with open arms. All the speakers were in sympathy in their tone and an era of law and order found its inception.

Every seat in the spacious rink building was filled and many persons were obliged to stand. About 600 were present. Hugh O'Donnell, of the advisory committee of the Amalgamated association, called the meeting to order and invited members of the advisory committee and the newspaper to occupy the stage. Referring to the newspaper representatives in Homestead, he said they were the people who were with the looked-out men and had won for them the sympathy of the entire people of the United States.

The cheers that followed this announcement sounded strange in the ears of the men who had despite the efforts of the advisory committee, suffered indignities at the hands of some of those who joined in the cheering. Mr. O'Donnell called on Burgess McLuckie to preside. The burgess spoke words of sound advice, and his words seemed almost inspired in their fervent utterance. "We are a little anxious about the reception of our friends, the militia," he said. "Some think their coming brings danger. They are not dangerous so long as the dignity and honor of the state is not insulted. We must arrange for their cordial reception. Every man, woman and child should greet them with open arms. In the interest of humanity I think we should do this."

Politic references to Gov. Pattison brought forth cheers. "This man Pattison is acting quietly and rightly," he said. "He is a man of sense and position. He does not cater to monopolies. I say Robert Pattison will not permit insults to the people of Homestead and surrounding country."

The burgess said the Pinkertons were concentrating their forces, and he realized that when their hired hordes struck the shores of Homestead there must be a great battle. He said he would not allow the Pinkerton agency to be the greatest blow it has ever received. "I will give them another," he shouted.

Continuing, the burgess characterized the Pinkertons as a dirty, filthy, stinking organization. He struck a resounding chord in the audience and cheered his scathing utterances. "Your friends are about to come," he said, in reference to the militia, "the naked, the poor people who can come. We do not want to see them. We want the militia. Pattison wants to defend the people, the state, her constitution and her laws. He is the most noble and generous of men. He is the only man who stands for the people. He will be taken to the river and ducked. [Laughter.] But I know you won't allow things of this sort."

At this point a workman moved that any man who offered insult to the militia should be ducked in the river, and the motion went through with a whoop. The burgess then went on to tell of arrangements for receiving the militia. The best plan, he said, was to get to the Homestead bank. Applause greeted an announcement that the band had already volunteered to go.

The burgess directed the president of each workman's lodge to notify the members to be ready to form in a body and receive the militia when they arrived. One workman suggested that a salute be taken to greet the militia men from committing breaches of the peace; but the suggestion received scant recognition and was allowed to drop.

Concerning order in the town, the burgess said he had been swearing in special policemen all day, and that he would issue a proclamation directing all strangers to leave the town by midnight. He said he would not allow the militia to be taken to the river and ducked. "We do not want from 25,000 to 40,000 people here for we cannot look out for them," he said. "Hold yourselves in readiness to form and receive the militia. We want the militia. We want the militia. We want the militia."

ANOTHER LABOR WAR

Renowned Trouble at Occur d'Alone Mines.

A CAR OF GIANT POWDER EXPLODED

With Frightful Results—Several Men Killed in the Fight and Seventy Nonunion Men Captured—The Troops Ordered Out.

WALLACE, Idaho, July 12.—The struggle between the union miners in Occur d'Alone and the mine owners, which was patched up about two months ago, broke out again yesterday in the town of Gem, and resulted in a savage fight between union and nonunion men at the Frisco and Gem mines, in which six men were killed, seven injured, and only nonunion men taken prisoners, and the Frisco mill blown up. The fight lasted several hours. The governor has ordered out the militia. The names of only three of the killed have been learned so far, all being union men. They are:

Carlson, Gus.
Cummings, Harry.
Pattison, George.
The other men killed were guards at the mine. After the mill was blown up the nonunion men blew a flag of truce and hostilities then ceased and the seventy men surrendered. The men are now under guard at the miners' union headquarters at Gem. The union men have resolved to drive every nonunion man out of the district. The nonunion children have been removed to places of safety.

Both the Gem and Frisco mines were guarded by men behind barricades, armed with Winchester rifles, and as an canyon is narrow where the miners are located, the men behind the barricades could sweep the railroad tracks and the country road with their bullets. The town mine levelled within 500 feet of the center of the town of Gem.

Yesterday morning at 5 o'clock a miner from Gem started for Burko, and when opposite the Frisco mine was fired upon. He ran back to Gem. Several hundred miners in the mountain got around the hills up the canyon above the mine, loaded a Union Pacific car with 750 pounds of giant powder, and sent the car down the track toward the Frisco mine, and directly in front of the mill. An explosion occurred, shattering the mill and making it a complete wreck. The nonunion men then showed the white flag and surrendered. They were marched down to the miners' union hall and guarded, no indignities being offered them after their surrender.

While the fight was going on at Frisco the Gem guards suddenly began firing volley after volley into the town of Gem, riddling buildings. John Ward, a citizen, was shot through the arm, and Gus Carlson, union miner, was shot and fell. All attempts to recover Carlson's body were met with volleys from the Gem guards, and when the body was recovered an hour afterward Carlson was dead, having been shot through the breast. George Pottione, union man, was shot through the head.

About 8 o'clock a posse occurred, and the sheriff, district attorney and deputy United States marshals appeared on the scene. The train was stopped by armed guards at the Gem mine. The sheriff took the mail on his shoulder and moved on to Gem. The guards leveled their rifles at him, but dropped them when they learned his identity.

At Gem several hundred men were huddled in the street with rifles and revolvers. At noon the Gem mine force surrendered to the union men. The Frisco and Gem were the only nonunion mines in the east end of Occur d'Alone.

The strike in Occur d'Alone began about nine months ago. The fight was between the Mine Owners' association, organized to resist the demands of the Miners' union. Twelve miners, including all the leading ones, are numbered in the former organization and money has been freely contributed to carry on the fight. The former rates were $3.00 per day to miners and shovellers, and the strike of the miners grew out of a reduction in the shovellers to three dollars per day. All miners working under ground demanded a reduction of wages. There were several acts of hostility when the strike began, but the miners' union did its best to prevent, by peaceful means, men working at the reduced wages. The United States circuit court issued an injunction forbidding any one from interfering with the men employed by the companies or the mine property. About two months ago matters were straightened out and the work went on as usual, but since the Carnegie troubles began the old question of wages has been revived by the men and resulted in yesterday's bloodshed.

A Spokane telegram says the union men in the Peoria and Tiger mines quit work and captured all the nonunion men working in the Union mine near Burko.

THE wages of the men at the Decatur Tilt Works have been increased. The strikers who were getting $1.50 now get $1.60 per day; the yardmen were raised from $1.25 to $2.50 per day. This will last until December 1st, when the wages will be reduced.
A SWARM of bees recently alighted on the overhead wire of the electric railway at the corner of Adams and Bridge streets, Peoria. Every time a car came along the trolley ran through them, and there was consternation in their ranks. It is probably the first time in Peoria that a swarm of bees took for their resting place an electric wire.

LUCIAN LEWIS is preparing for her Grand tour—for which a fine company has been engaged—"Credit Lorraine". As in a touring glass and Article 47, will be played. In addition to this she is rehearsing the feat of jumping from a running horse without breaking her neck; also, how to mount, dismount, and ride a horse man fashion. In second act of Lady Lil, Miss Lewis will appear on horseback in the uniform of a Prussian Uhlan—and in the third act on horseback in a circus rider's costume.

Death of a Former Citizen.
J. A. Blanchard died of paralysis at Purcell, Chickasaw Nation, Indian Territory, July 5, aged 61 years, leaving a widow and seven children. The deceased was a resident of Decatur up to 1878, when he left for the west and engaged in mercantile business at Purcell. During his residence in this city Mr. Blanchard was a traveling man and commanded a salary of $3,000. He built the dwelling at the corner of North Water and Marietta streets, now occupied by A. H. Sutton and family. He will be remembered by many of our readers, who knew him and admired him for his many admirable qualities. He attended services at the Universalist church. He was a Mason and a thoroughly good citizen. The day of his funeral at Purcell every business house in the town, except one, was closed in respect to the deceased, who was held in the highest esteem. The Purcell Tropic published an article strongly commending Beringer, the hardware merchant, who kept his store open, and made a show of doing business, when everybody was attending the Blanchard funeral. The burial was at St. Joe, Mo.

Myrtle Temple Officers—Gavel.
The new officers of Myrtle Temple, No. 2 Pythian Sisters, were installed last evening as follows:
M. E. C.—Mrs. Mary Ferguson.
M. E. S.—Mrs. Lizzie Surface.
M. E. T.—Mrs. J. C. Taylor.
M. O. T.—Mrs. Mary Dawson.
M. of B.—Mrs. L. J. Wisner.
M. of F.—Mrs. Julia Kincaid.
P. of H.—Miss Lela Young.
G. of O. T.—Mrs. Emma Keck.
A beautiful gavel of solid ivory, with ebony handle, surrounded by a band of gold, was presented in behalf of Myrtle Temple to Mrs. Jennie Hays, first Grand Chief of Illinois. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. Cora Dillehaut and the hardware merchant fittingly and appropriately acknowledged in a brief response by Mrs. Hays. The gavel bears the following inscription: "From Myrtle Temple, No. 2, Pythian Sisters, to Sister Jennie Hays, First Grand Chief of Illinois, June 23, 1892."

Democrats at War.
In the senate hall yesterday afternoon there was a breezy discussion between Supervisor Cassin, of Niantic township, and Supervisor Whitley, of Hartstown, over the adoption of the report of the committee on equalization of taxes for the year 1892. It appeared to Mr. Whitley that Hartstown had received a little the worst of the adjustment and that Niantic had profited by it. Both supervisors stood up for their constituents, and finally on the motion to refer the report back to the committee for further consideration, the proposition was lost by a vote of 12 to 11, and the report adopted by the same vote. Supervisor Roberts took part in the discussion, as did also Supervisors Johnson, Parker, Barber, Bailey and Gerver. The report stands as heretofore published in the Republican.

Abraham Lincoln Club.
There will be a meeting of the Abraham Lincoln Club at their hall at 9 o'clock this evening. All are invited.

A PARTY AT THE NAT.

A Party of Ladies and Gentlemen Enjoy a Refreshing Plunge.

The Misses Voorhies Whist Party—Will Blackstone Entertains His Friends—Picnic, Boating and Birthday Parties.

It was a merry party of ladies and gentlemen who went swimming last evening at the Natatorium in Riverside Park, and owing to the large amount of pleasure and benefit which they derived from the plunge, swimming parties will no doubt be all the rage this year. The party last night was a private affair and the Nat. was reserved for their use. Everything was especially arranged for their benefit. The building was lighted with electricity and the water was heated to a proper temperature. The shrieks and laughter of the parties could be heard all over the park. Two ladies, Miss Belle Burrows and Miss Grace Shellenbarger, showed great proficiency in the art of swimming and were the envy of the other ladies. There is some talk of organizing a bathing club among those who were out last evening and leaving the Nat. every Monday evening. Those who comprised the party last evening were D. A. Moffit, Ralph Templeton, Frank Curtis, Frank Koch, E. D. Bartholomew, George W. Powers, Edgar Alexander, J. D. Templeton, Charles Hurst, Albert Barnes and their wives, the Misses Haines, Belle and Maudie Burrows, Grace Shellenbarger, the Messrs. Mills, Arthur Flood, Harry Hord, Ada Hoskins, Leon Evans, Oscar Dawson, Lou Glover, John Murphy, Walter Strange, Ben Shockey and B. Bradley.

MISS VOORHIES' PARTY.
The Misses Mary and Bessie Voorhies entertained a party of friends last evening at their home on West William street at drive wheel in honor of their guest, Miss Hamilton of Bridgeport, Conn. The first gentlemen's prize, which was a handsomely bound book, was won by Edward Powers, and the second, a silver playing-card case, by Charles Kinsman. Miss Jessie Milikin won the first lady's prize, which was a beautiful evening, and Miss Harriet Howell the second, a bunch of pink carnations. Delicious refreshments were served. The following is a list of the guests: Messrs. Ewing, Milikin, Struggles, Grimes, Hamilton, Montgomery, Ely, Howell, Telle, Ulrich and Randall, and Messrs. Perkins, Plack, Bumstead, Powers, Hamner, Me Kinnon, Bohon, Kinsman, Moore, James and Allan Bevans.

WILL BLACKSTONE'S PARTY.
Will Blackstone gave a delightful progressive whist party last evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Blackstone, on West Main street. Miss Alice Piper won the lady's prize, a beautiful ring, and Bob Spaulding the gentlemen's prize, an ink stand. Refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Jessie Montgomery, Abbie Dryden, Bonnie Bartholomew, Ada Haines, Neta Dillard, Belle Vennigerich, Allison Lank, Adele Blackstone, Floy Gassaway, Madge Hays, Mae Harwood, Lydia Montgomery, Edith Race, Nellie Moore, Bessie Young, Alice Piper, Cora Martin, Lydia Martin and Messrs. Hugh Housum, Scott, Thorne, Thorne, Ewing, Bruce Olenoweth, Bob Spaulding, Arthur Smith, Harry Hurd, Edgar Quinlan, Charlie Eyan, Linn Blackstone, Will Housum, Frank Hays, Henry Crowell, Jim Lank, Troy Alexander, Tyler Morfe, Warren, Ed Himes, Warren Duffee, Charles Olinaday and John Sessions. Messrs. Herb Bartholomew, O. B. Goran, W. C. Armstrong, Piper and Miss Margaret Boblett assisted. Bagnara were received from Misses Pessie Hoskins, Dot Duffee and Anna Walton and Messrs. Earle Bartholomew and Baldwin Starr.

PROMIS.
Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dawson, Mrs. Straler, Charles Ewing, Oscar Dawson and Mabel and Bess Mills drove out to the old fair grounds late yesterday afternoon and spent their summer evenings and hammocks and had a splendid time.

THURSDAY PARTY.
A birthday party was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Law Clendenen in honor of the 18th birthday anniversary of their son, Charles. Many of his friends assembled and had a jolly time. Allison's orchestra enlivened the occasion with music. Elegant refreshments were served.

BOATING PARTY.
A boating party at Riverside Park last night consisted of Frank Westenberg, George McCallum, Thomas Ryan, J. W. Stafford, and Misses Jennie Leiby, Minnie Butler, Lilly Stephens and Mame Sweeney.

OTHER PARTIES—TO BE.
Miss Bessie Young and Edgar Quinlan will give a high tide party to-night in honor of Harry Hurd, of Chicago.
Frank Housum and Tom Wood are arranging for a picnic to-night at Riverside Park.
Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ruhl gave a delightful party last evening to about twenty of their friends at their home on West William street.

False Alarm.
The fire department was called out last evening between 7 and 8 o'clock by a supposed fire in the basement of the J. Millikin & Co. bank building. The janitor stuffed the furnace with a lot of old paper and applied the match. Instead of going up the chimney the smoke filled the cellar, coming out through the sidewalk grating. The smoke caused the alarm and with the apparatus came a great crowd, which filled the street. There was no fire and when the chimney "got to work" it was possible to stay in the cellar. No damage.

BY ELECTRICITY.

The New Court House will be Lighted—Pauper Cemetery.

The supervisors finished the business of the July meeting last evening and adjourned to meet again in regular session in September.

The judges of election in Macon township will be: First district, C. F. Emery, A. Wilcox and S. Stoughton; second district, Wm. Rainey, John Longstreet and J. H. Peck.

On the report of the committee it was ordered that a small tract of land at the poor farm be set apart and enclosed with a wire fence, in which to bury all paupers. Overseer Holman was instructed to notify Steward Minge of the death of all paupers that they may be interred in the lot.

Supervisor Cope's resolution that the new court house be wired for the use of electricity was adopted.

The Building Committee of which Supervisor May is chairman will purchase the furniture for the court house.

The contract for printing the official proceedings of the session of the county board was awarded to the Decatur Republican and Decatur Review at $100 a year each.

A GREAT STRUCTURE.

The New Station of the Illinois Central Company in Chicago.

Work on the foundation of the new Illinois Central station at Chicago has been begun, and quite a showing has been made already. A large force of men is employed on the contract, and it is the desire of the company to have it completed and ready for use by next spring, when the world's fair guests begin to visit Chicago. It was the general supposition that the new structure would be erected on the site of the old station. The new building, however, will stand at the foot of Twelfth street, or what is known as the Washington shops. All passenger trains will stop there, where the travelers will alight. The new system will extend as far north as the old station, however, and all suburban trains will have their terminus there. The new station will be one of the finest in the west, and will be supplied with all modern conveniences. When completed it will cost something over $1,000,000. The old landmark of the great Chicago fire will soon be a thing of the past, but the traveling public is perfectly willing to part with it.

Dizzy Danville.
Sunday night at Danville in the course of his sermon on "Darkest Danville," Rev. Horace Reed, formerly of Decatur, spoke right out in meeting. The Doctor deplored the fact that young girls could be seen almost any night strutting about the city from nightfall to 1 o'clock a. m. One night recently he saw four young girls and their escorts stop in the grounds of the Washington school and all lighted cigarettes and strolled on smoking. The girls were young and had the appearance of being respectable. He wondered where their mothers were and why they permitted such things. He said the mothers of such girls should be sent to the insane asylum and their daughters placed under the protection of some one who could take care of them as they should be. Some of the mothers of such girls he knew to be members of the church and professors of Christianity. It is a shame and a disgrace on such mothers.

Ladies visitors admitted to gallery during ladies' hours.

Stranded Actors.
A bill is being prepared to submit to the next legislature of New York to protect actors who are taken out on the road by agents and managers who are so destitute of means that if their companies are unsuccessful they are obliged to walk home. It has often proved to the advantage of traveling actors to be left to shift for themselves. It is stated that over a thousand homesteads have been taken up in one county in North Dakota by the members of stranded theatrical companies. They came to play for their people but remained to work for themselves.

HAMMOCKS.
